

Language development and your child –

A free, drop in session for parents and carers

Are you worried about your child's developing language skills?

Do you want to know how you can help at home?

What does 'behaviour is communication' really mean?

Do you want to know how talking with your child can support their reading and writing?

Why not come and join us at the Torridge Family Hub to find out more. You can chat with Speech and Language Therapists and SEND Advisory Teachers. We have lots of information and activities to share with you or we're happy to just sit down and have a coffee and a chat about your child.

We welcome you to share ideas about what works for you and have a chance to discuss and share with other parents/carers.

So please come along to what we hope will be the first of many drop-in sessions at the Family Hub.
